Exclusion For Narcotic Offenders

by Margot Hyatt

There was some soul searching last night on the part of the Carmel School Board and adult members of the community to whom the special meeting had been thrown open to try to decide on a policy for handling narcotics offenders.

Board President Newton described the situation in which five young people had been found to be in violation. Dr. Harris Taylor outlined the board's dilemma of protecting the many while preserving the rights of the few. There was the problem of degree, the users vs. the pushers, the experimenters vs. the steady users; the problem of easy availability and cheapness of the drugs, the glamor of use by university students as reported by the national press.

Indefinite exclusion was proposed for students charged with supply, use or possession of illegal drugs on or near school property or school-related activity off campus. For off campus offenses, particularly supplying drugs, the board proposed suspension or exclusion until the case had been officially dealt with by the courts, after which it would decide whether to admit the pupil to school under certain restrictions. Exclusion was proposed for any second violation involving use, possession or supply of illegal drugs. For students allowed to return to school it was proposed to design special programs which might include assignment to continuation school or a special class away from regular schools, conducted by district personnel, or regular classes with special guidance and counseling provisions and restriction placed on participation in extra-curricular activities, dress, holding of class office, etc. Parent participation in a group therapy situation was later proposed and added to this section.

Arthur Strasburger, Jr. drew enthusiastic applause when he wondered how much good it did to suspend a student who gets out of school, has more time to get in trouble, may become a drop-out. Use of LSD and other drugs, he thought, stems from a dual morality. Strasburger felt the school could do much with good counselors. Pushers must be treated more seriously than users, perhaps with psychiatric help.

Jim Sweeney, a student, said, "If you throw them out, you will not stop corruption, but if you bring them back, maybe we can help them."

Mrs. Robert Dudley was worried that punitive action might be taken against one who might prove innocent; about adding to punishment handed out by law.

Richard Wilsdon, attorney, recently elected to the school board for next year, also made the point that a juvenile might be charged with a violation although innocent.

Dr. Taylor was asked what continuation school consisted of, and what the counseling program would be. Continuation school which now takes place in Pacific Grove consists of three hours a day of basic courses in English, history and math, he said. "As for counseling, we would have to design a program. Counselors are overburdened as it is."

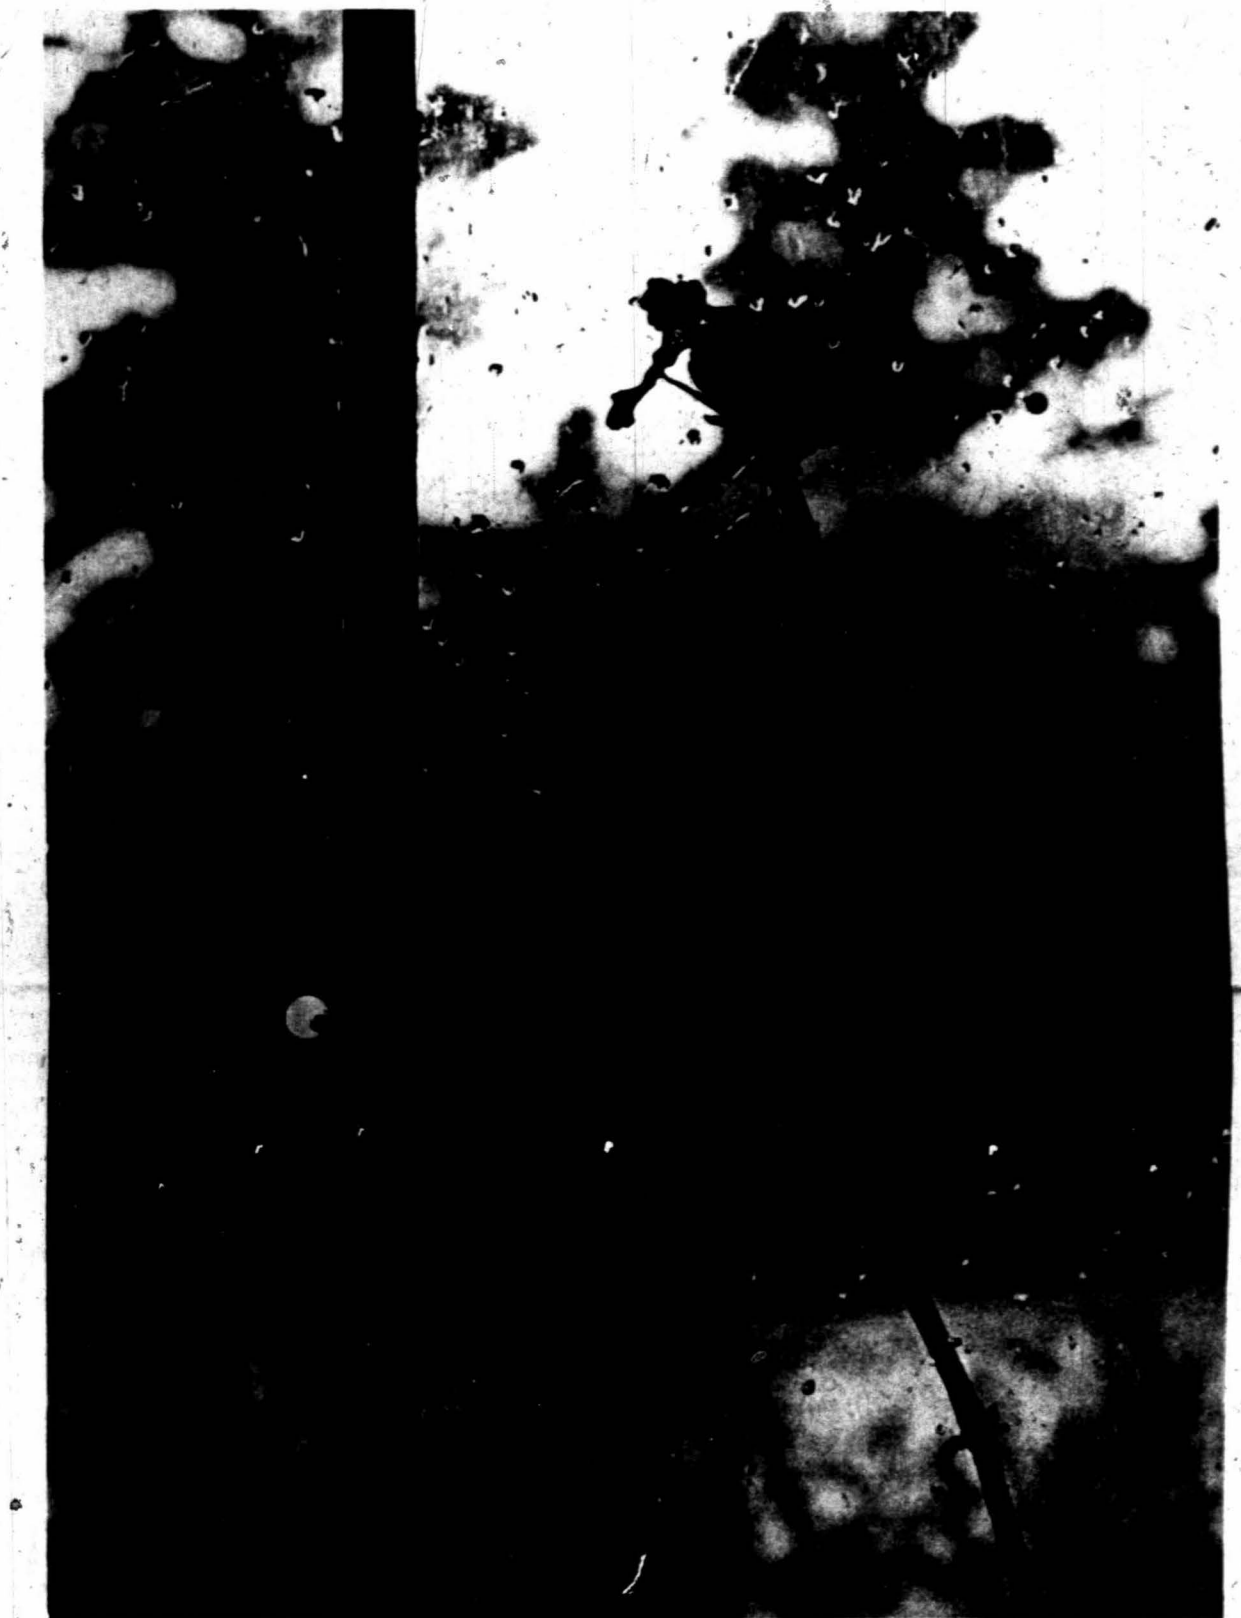

"Drugs are often a symptom not the problem", stated Howard McPhann who asked what other kind of action Dr. Taylor saw as meaningful such as factual information, adult-juvenile relations.

"We are keeping parents informed with data on drugs, educating students of the consequences of drug use. We have the obligation to see that the school grounds, buildings and buses are not used for illicit traffic and that our children in school are not under the influence." "Youngsters, he said, take drugs for many reasons, emotional, psychological problems." "We'd like to know more about these youngsters who feel they must disorient themselves."

"If we really want to find out about these children, we can't serve as a police force," said Dr. Hilton Bialek, school board member.

Wally LeValley, English instructor, advisor for The Sandpiper, Carmel High School newspaper, felt that the school should maintain contact with those who want to come back. Second offenders, he thought, should be expelled but he wasn't sure about first offenders. He made the observation that there were only 2 counselors for 900 students.

Myron Landowner described a film on drug addiction which the Monterey Kiwanis club had donated to the police department. He said students would think twice before starting if they knew what marijuana could lead to. A high school teacher said the film was being shown next week. A panel discussion was announced for next Sunday evening at 7 p.m. at the Church of the Wayfarer. Taking part, there will be a woman addict from Salinas, Dr. Daniel L. Gornel, M.D., school doctor, Mr. Baine Smith, Rev. Lloyd E. Johnston of All Saints Episcopal Church, and Dr. Taylor on the panel.

The board, led by Dr. Newton, proceeded to ratify and work on the wording of the tentative board policy.

George Brown who said he had some experience in penology said that the "keynote should be rehabilitation. You may cause 'force' (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Carmel City Council Adjourned Regular Meeting

(April 19, 1967)

Resolution of Commendation plaques were awarded Volunteer fireman Bill Hill and Policeman Edward P. Fischer for meritorious service to Carmel by Mayor Steve Grant at the special Council meeting Wednesday night. Police Commissioner William Sefton presented Edward Fisher with an additional plaque from fellow Police Officers for his act of heroism June 3, 1964.

Parking At Sunset

During an extended session of reasoned debate it looked as if the thorny Sunset Parking problem would end in a stalemate. In the comment period following a motion by Councilman Blanks to approve the measure with a $2000.00 appropriation for special surfacing, (seal coat) Robert Downs appeared with a lengthy request for reconsideration of the interim report. As a nearby resident he expressed a deep concern about the ultimate character of that part of the City. "Once a bell is rung it cannot be unring" was his answer to proponents of the measure who (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Their itinerary includes programs in San Ardo, King City, Soledad, Gonzales, Chualar, Spreckels and Moss Landing.

After their April 20-21 presentations, the Monterey County Symphony Youth Orchestra will be taken to San Francisco on Saturday to attend a special rehearsal Orchestra.

This will mark the completion of their 1966-67 season. Formed in 1963, the Monterey County Symphony Youth Orchestra is one of the many activities sponsored by the Monterey County Symphony Association.

"Ibsen" To Be Topic Of MPC Lecture

Robert D. Heater, actor and director who appeared in the Circle Theatre production of "Hedda Gabler", will lecture on "Ibsen: The Social Rebel" Friday at the Monterey Peninsula College.

He will address an English class taught by Mrs. Hazel Mohler of Carmel at noon in the library lecture hall on campus. All students and the general public are invited to attend without charge.

Mr. Heater has acted and directed in professional, community and stock theater throughout the country, and he was the first emcee for the television show which preceded the current "Tonight" show.

Pops Concert

The Pops Concert, which will be held this Sunday starting at noon, will not only feature the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra but there will be time for a family lunch, picnic style, or if it is raining there will be a snack bar service inside the Agricultural building at the Monterey County Fairgrounds where the event will be held.

Besides playing popular songs from "Showboat," the Symphony will play such numbers as "The Sidewalks of New York," "The Bowery," "Little Annie Rooney," "The Band Played On" and many other old favorites. As part of the program the Seaside High School Concert Choir and the Advanced Girl's Glee Club directed by Richard Sheere will take part in the show as well as a "roving musician" who will entertain during the lunch hour preceding the concert.

Students from the Monterey Peninsula College Circle K Service Club will help in preparation for the event as well as girls from the International Group who will act as hostesses. "Showboat Gamblers" will give out balloons to the children.

This concert is sponsored by the Symphony Guild of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, Peninsula Chapter. Mrs. Mark Raggett and Mrs. Edward O'Donnell are the co-chairmen for the event.

Tickets for the concert may be purchased at the entrance to the Fairgrounds, the California Music House or the Carmel Rancho Pharmacy, Carmel Rancho Shopping Center.

Students Present A Satire On War

"Oh What a Lovely War!"—a "musical entertainment" conceived and written by Joan Littlewood's Theatre Royal Workshop, London, will be presented April 21, 22, and 26 to 29, in Monterey Peninsula College's Little Theatre on Campus.

Roy Sibley and Katey Storey of Carmel are among the large student cast directed by MPC drama instructor Morgan Stock. Most of the actors are playing or singing several parts in the lively musical satire on war.

A program note by Charles Chilton, one of the show's London originators, reads: "Everything spoken during this evening either happened or was said, sung or written during 1914-1918. Everything presented as fact is true."

Curtain time each evening is 8:30. Tickets on sale at door or at MPC administration building.

This merry group is getting in the spirit of Pops Concert Day at the Monterey County Fairgrounds which will be held this Sunday. Gates will open at noon for family picnics and the concert will start at 2 p.m. Allison Work, Mrs. Pillsbury Pringle, Tracy Keaton, Mrs. Jack Miller, Susan Work and an unidentified "gambler" are pictured above.

Anouilh Play Next At Community Theatre

The award-winning play "The Waltz of the Toreadors" will open as the next production by the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula on April 21.

Written by Jean Anouilh, author of "Becket," "The Lark" and "Antigone," this play is the story of a retired French general who fancies himself quite a 'toreador' with the ladies. With his wife an invalid for 17 years he has had plenty of time to pursue his riotous romancing but his personal sense of honor kept him from divorce. The hilarious comedy has overtones of pathos when he recognizes his own shallow conquests.

"The Waltz of the Toreadors" will play at the Circle Theatre.

Zoe "Adopted" by Carmel Resident

George F. Hamilton of Carmel has recently financially "adopted" Zoe Livadiotaki, a 10-year-old Greek girl through the Foster Parent's Plan, Inc. Zoe replaces the girl Mr. Hamilton "adopted" a few years ago who now no longer needs PLAN help.

The "adoption" is financial, not legal and costs $15 monthly for a minimum of one year. Under PLAN a child, once enrolled, is assured of continuous care until he is capable of caring for himself. If a Foster Parent is unable to continue his obligation the child is assigned to another Foster Parent.

The child and his "adopted" parents develop a program of exchange letters and generally a warm relationship follows. The organization is now 30 years old and cares for some 45,000 children around the world. Originally the program stressed rescue and relief, but now the emphasis is on rehabilitation, not only for the child but for the entire family as well.

A Foster Parent may choose a child according to age, sex, and nationality and PLAN will try to best meet the specifications. For further information write to Foster Parents Plan, Inc. 352 Park Avenue South, New York, New York 10010.

SASSOON, BIALEK, WILSDON ELECTED TO SCHOOL BOARD

A total of 31.8 percent of registered voters braved the inclement weather Tuesday to cast their ballots in the Carmel Unified School District election.

Returned to office for another term were incumbents Steven H. Sassoon and Hilton M. Bialek. Mr. Richard T. Wilsdon was selected by the voters to fill the third elected position on the board.

Mr. Sassoon said yesterday "I am delighted with the results. I believe that the substantial majority received by the incumbents is a vote of confidence for the board. I know that the board will fulfill its trust and obligation to the community. I would like to thank all those who supported me and helped make my campaign for reelection successful."

Mr. Bialek, when contacted early yesterday, commented, "It is gratifying that so many voters felt the position and views, taken were worthy of support. I am very optimistic about the progress we will be able to make in the next year with the newly elected board and new administration."

New board member Richard Wilsdon said, "I will try hard to live up to the confidence that I have received. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who helped with my campaign, and to those who voted for me in this election. I feel that many people felt that the current narcotic problem at the High School pointed up the need for someone on the board who has legal knowledge so that the board may be advised as far as legal procedures are concerned. I shall do my best to live up to the responsibilities placed on me by the voters."

So, the battle was fought, race won—and we at the Pine Cone extended best wishes and success to the new Carmel Unified School District board.

Parents Club Plans Work Day April 29

The Captain Cooper Parents Club is sponsoring a Community Work Day for the improvement of the Nature Trail. It will be held Saturday, April 29 from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

A pot luck luncheon will be held, and parents are asked to bring food as well as utensils. All workers are asked to bring tools.

Dick and Mary Brinton have bought a new home in Carmel Knolls. April 14, Howard and Katy Hunter arranged a real surprise housewarming party for them. The uninvited guests brought their own chairs and cushions to sit on. There were party refreshments and gifts but the real highlight of the evening was the painting they received. Their friend and artist, Bill Timmons presented them with a watercolor and all of the guests signed it.

Edwards Letter To Parents

Warren Edwards, in his final letter to the parents of Carmel High School students, presented several startling items and some very interesting information. Not only did he state facts but also made suggestions as to what could be done in some of the areas of misunderstanding.

Edwards wrote "I see where the pass or fail system is spreading in our institutions of higher learning. A student is allowed to designate one course in his program as a 'pass-fail' course each semester. His grade-point average is not affected unless he fails the course. This encourages the students to broaden their intellectual interests without subjecting them to grade pressures or the risk of lowering their over-all averages. Suppose we offered this sort of an option to our juniors and seniors in high school? What complications would accrue?"

In one of his most interesting comments, Edwards questioned the term "dropout" and said "I wonder if a more correct term wouldn't be 'push-out'. Not only is this my conclusion but research in five Michigan school systems over a three-year period shows that flaws in the schools create the dropout rate. Almost a third of all students quit high school without a diploma." Some of the reasons the research team turned up are 1. Mistracked students. In the track system, many students are unfairly excluded from college-bound courses. They can't get out of the track they are placed in, so they have little opportunity to move ahead. 2. Low expectations by teachers cause poor performance by pupils. Bright students in non-college courses are less likely to receive high grades than those of similar I.Q. in college courses. Teachers also expect and therefore get, behavior problems from students in the general track. 3. An "important source of hopelessness" is high school records, which often reflect the students weaknesses, rather than his strengths.

Mr. Edwards has accepted a position as the high school principal in the American International School in Athens, Greece. He and his family will leave Carmel around July 1 and travel for a month before he will take up his new duties on the first of August.

Health Department Reports Rabies Cases

A rabid skunk was killed last week about 5 miles north of Salinas on Pesante Road. A fox, captured in the same area was also rabid, upon examination.

Dr. Richard S. Fraser, County Health Officer stated, "Representing the first positive case of rabies reported in 1967, in Monterey County, these incidents point out the fact that rabies in wildlife may occur just about any time and in any area of the county."

The Health Department wishes to remind parents to teach their children not to feed semi-tame wild animals, and to avoid all animals which are easily approached.

Reduced-fee rabies clinics on April 26 at the Carmel Valley fire station from 10:30 to 1 p.m. are being held for the purpose of aiding dog owners in having their dogs immunized economically.

Richard Masten At MPC Tomorrow

Richard Masten, poet and songwriter, will read his poetry and sing some of his songs Friday, noon to 1 p.m., April 21, in the Monterey Peninsula College music hall.

Both students and the general public are invited to attend without charge. Following Masten's presentation he will meet with students and the public on an informal basis in the student union.

Masten, a native Californian, lives with his wife and four children in the Big Sur area. He was educated in private schools, attended Pomona College and San Jose State College and traveled in Europe for two years of art study. He returned to Carmel in the early 1950's to write and see produced five musical comedies in the Forest Theater.

Citizens' Comments

THE NUCLEAR TRIGGER

by Wesley Yale

At the time of the Johnson-Goldwater campaign, the latter was accused of being trigger happy and irresponsible because he advocated the delegation of authority to employ nuclear weapons to senior military commanders in the theater of operations, when emergencies arose. Magazine articles of the day lent some substance to the Goldwater argument on grounds that the chain of command between units in the field and the Pentagon-White House was too long to obtain a timely decision.

Technical debate on a question of this kind requires several volumes of material that probably would not satisfy those on either side of the question. One important factor for the American voter, however, is the matter of whether the American military commander is indeed worthy of trust in such an important situation. The time may come, now that NATO is essentially moribund and now that Vietnam is essentially a unilateral effort, when delegation may be expedient.

Today's American general officer is everything that he can be asked to be. A visit to the major military commands is a real inspiration when rugged, athletic, hard-hitting and politic commanders are in every key spot. There has never been anything like it in the history of any country. All of these officers have come up the hard way through years of practical experience and years of schooling in both military and civil problems. Most have been battle-hardened in Europe, the Pacific and Korea; some of the senior grades like Generals Abrams and Palmer have handled with infinite tact such explosive situations as negro unrest in the South and Dominican outbreaks; small questions such as Trieste have been resolved without having State Department overt action.

These men know war, its causes and its results. They are far more effective pacifically than any "peacenik" extremist since they cannot afford to be over-idealistic. Most of all, they have attended and have conducted, schools in every aspect of nuclear weapons employment to include political causes and effects. These schools have extended through all commissioned and non-commissioned grades within the United States and have embraced the NATO nations personnel as well.

Finally, a control system considered thoroughly full proof has been developed so that no nuclear weapon can be armed, let alone used, without express authority from the White House.

The American public can rest assured that in the event nuclear authority is one day vested in the Theater commanders it will be used with tact and discretion.

Letter To Editor and Carmel Parents

by Jean Graham

During the past five years, there has been no regular entertainment program of quality films for children, and there are a great number of parents who feel there is a definite need for such a project.

Tom Graff, manager of Carmel's Village Theatre, spoke to me recently in his office about presenting a regular Saturday matinee show for children from 7 to 16. He has been interested in doing this for some time and told me he receives between 10 and 25 calls each week from parents who ask "Is something being done about securing good children's films." His answer to that is: "Let's stop talking about it and DO something about it!"

There are plenty of good films available for children," Graff said. "We can show them innumerable "Beach Party" films, and the kids will keep coming to see them; but what are we contributing to the development of the individual child? We should provide pictures that will make them think, as well as entertain them."

Such a planned project is indeed a desirable thing to fill the need of recreation for children on Saturday afternoons. It would, of course, have to be supported by a group of parents, representing the school, church or other civic organization. They would have a major part in selecting the films and stage entertainment, be responsible for the sale of tickets and for having one or two chaperones present during the matinee.

Tickets at reasonable prices would not be hard to sell, judging from the type of films that are planned. A "live" stage show lasting a half hour and a "Give-Away" show would be included in the three hours, along with a full length film and a cartoon. Proceeds from tickets would cover the cost of renting the films only. The theatre would receive no remuneration, but would ask a guarantee of the sale of 400 seats at each show. Tickets could be sold either by the month or season, according to what the board would decide.

As to whether or not there would be a realistic response to such a program, Graff told me that when he contacted the Carmel High School last year, to offer a student showing of "Hamlet" the response was so enthusiastic that

Wesley W. Yale

Wesley W. Yale spent 40 years in regular army command and staff positions emphasizing tactical and logistical operations experience and commanded Patton's leading column at the close of World War II. He became familiar with European politics while serving in the U.S. State Department as executive for the disposal of surplus war material in both the Far East and Europe. He also acted as command inspector for the logistical complex, now under fire from de Gaulle, and as executive for the withdrawal of U.S. Forces from Trieste in 1953, then operating under the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

After retirement, Wesley W. Yale moved into the military operations research field, until a second retirement in 1965, as senior operations analyst for Stanford Research Institute. His work included analyses of combat effectiveness of small tactical units, computer analyses of battle systems, strategic studies of communications systems in Southeast Asia and South America and the command and control of tactical and strategic nuclear weapons in the European theatre. He has just completed studies of the air defense of airborne joint task forces in remote areas of the world and of command and control methods within the German Army.

In the course of research incident to these studies, he has frequently conferred with the major commands in the Pacific and European theatres and with senior military and civilian authorities in the Pentagon. His European contacts have included French and German commanders, as well as American, with a special effort directed toward former chiefs of staff of General Erwin Rommel. His NATO efforts have included conferences with the senior staff officers of the Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe (SHAPE) and the SHAPE Technical Center at The Hague.

many more tickets could have been sold!

We should, at least, experiment with such a program, either for a short or long period; i.e. four weeks, two months, six months. We cannot know if it is wanted until we try it out! Graff is also a parent and has been very concerned with the lack of good entertainment for children under 16. Most of the legitimate theater present here is geared to adult participation. In other words, there seems to be plenty of culture for the adult, but the children seem to have been overlooked.

As an active member of the Board of the Carmel Valley Youth Organization for a long time, and one of its sponsors, Graff wanted to make it clear that this new idea for children's programs, would in no way affect the functioning of the Community Center shows. The films, shown there, for the most part, are for children under 13.

Our children need to see the right kind of films and at present they are either at a loss on Saturdays for something to do, or are seeing mediocre films of the wrong kind. The times are rare indeed, when the whole family can "go to the movies" together. Sex and violence seem to predominate the film fare.

If you are interested in supporting this Saturday matinee, let Graff know that you are! Let's get going and do something about showing films to our children, that will make them think as well as entertain them!

IT PAYS TO STAY WITHIN THE LAW

Fish and game law violations cost 333 persons $8,393 last month in the central coastal area from southern San Luis Obispo County to northern Mendocino County, the Department of Fish and Game said today.

In addition to these fines, offenders served 217 days in jail.

Angling without a license was the most common offense, and 143 persons paid fines in March for failure to have a license in their possession or for not having the proper stamps.

CARMEL COUPLE PLAN AN AUGUST WEDDING

Phyllis Jean Farrar and Barton Beard Whelan are planning an August wedding in the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel.

Phyllis is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Farrar of Carmel Highlands and Phillip J. Farrar of Newport Beach. She is a 1964 graduate of Carmel High School and attended Monterey Peninsula College. Her sister is Mrs. S. H. Boyer and her brother is Peter C. Farrar.

Barton is the son of Mrs. Jack Martin of Carmel and Mr. E. B. Whelan of Long Beach. He is a 1963 graduate of Carmel High School and attended Monterey Peninsula College, Oregon State College and Sacramento State College, majoring in criminology. He is now working at the Mark Fenwick Shop in Carmel. He has a sister, Diane Whelan. Walter F. Beard of Pacific Grove is his grandfather.

After the wedding, the young couple plan to live in Sacramento, where Mr. Whelan will continue his studies toward a degree in criminology.

Parents Without Partners

Strong winds and rain did not deter a large and enthusiastic group of men and women from attending the opening meeting of "Parents Without Partners" Thursday, March 30 at the Monterey Library.

Richard Bennett, acting chairman, introduced Mrs. Sally Spray of Palo Alto, who is on the National Board of the organization. She discussed the activities of the PWP and stated it is basically an educational organization.

Seventy-two people signed up to form the Monterey Peninsula Chapter of PWP. The last Thursday evening of every month was selected as the date for the monthly meeting. The locale is to be announced.

Those responsible for organizing the meeting are Reverend David Hill, All Saints' Episcopal Church of Carmel, and Miss Henrietta Wilhelm.

Mrs. Janice Niebel acted as hostess for the evening. Mrs. Phyllis Garrison was acting secretary, Mrs. Barbara Litz, refreshments, and Mrs. Elinor Elder was elected temporary treasurer.

"April in Paris Fete"

Everyone knows that French food has few equals. And so the Mark Thomas Inn is surpassing its other International Night presentations by producing an "April in Paris Fete" on Wednesday, April 26.

Party Plans has the pleasure of divulging the menu and recipes in advance. They are authentic in every detail. It is no mean feat that Chef Hillebrand can turn out a

One lb. fresh chicken livers; ¼ lb. bacon fat; tiny bits of white onion. Braise the livers and onion in bacon fat. When done, add 4 tbsps. Madeira Wine. Put livers through fine blade of meat grinder, then force through sieve. Add large of minced boiled ham, raw mushrooms and truffles blended with thick cream. A master chef finds this easy to do but we suggest for home cuisine to stuff the veal slices with a packaged prepared herb dressing mixed with minced ham and cream of mushroom soup, undiluted. To make the paupiettes, for six, cut 3 lbs. veal round steak into 6 equal ¼ inch thick pieces for rolling. Take each slice and put between 2 pieces of waxed paper and beat with heavy wooden mallet until very thin but not broken through. Make the stuffing and put some into each slice of veal. Roll and fasten each end with a fine thread to form a paupiette. Brown all over quickly in skillet with hot butter; pour over 3 tbsps. dry sherry and remove. To the butter in skillet add some cut up peeled tomatoes, minced onion and fines herbes. Cook with a little consomme until a nice sauce is formed. Taste for salt and pepper. Put veal birds in baking dish, cover with the sauce and cook gently in moderate oven until veal is done. Add more consomme and sherry to sauce if it dries out. Remove thread carefully from paupiettes and serve on hot platter with sauce. You may serve fluffy mashed potatoes with this to accommodate the delicious sauce or take mashed potatoes, add a beaten egg to 2 cups full, form into balls and roll in cracker crumbs and deep-fry to make potato croquettes. This takes an expert hand.

Points d'Asperges— Sauce Hollandaise

In Europe the white asparagus spears are used instead of the green ones we fancy over here. Serve hot or cold with hollandaise. The salad is made with tender young lettuce hearts to which an exciting Sauce Vinaigrette is added at the last moment.

Sauce Vinaigrette

Mix olive oil and wine vinegar together with salt, pepper, dry mustard to taste. Add chopped green olives and fine herbes (especially minced parsley and chives). Shake well before serving always well chilled.

Fraises Romanoff

This Russian style strawberry favorite became the rage in Paris when the Romanoff White Russians escaped to live there. Fresh and lovely big strawberries are hulled and soaked in Grand Marnier, Cointreau or Curacao then covered with whipped cream mixed into rich French vanilla ice cream and served in parfait glasses. As shown in the accompanying picture, elegant and easy parfaits can be made with frozen and thawed raspberries or strawberries (or with fresh ones, of course) and mixed with vanilla ice cream in layers with lemon cookies, ginger snaps or fig newtons a l'Americaine. This makes a simple family supper glamorous or will fete special dinner guests with a regal French parfait finale.

"Although the 'April in Paris' dessert is Strawberries Romanoff, you can make a simple family supper glamorous by serving parfaits for dessert or fete special dinner guests with a regal French parfait finale.

Crust: One half lb. flour; 1 stick butter. Add water until consistency of pie crust. Roll out and line a loaf bread tin with the dough. Lay strips of bacon on bottom and sides of pan. Fill with chicken liver paste and cover with remaining pie dough. Cut slits for steam to escape. Bake until crust is done and light brown. Put a little chicken aspic on top. Serves six or more. This can be used as an hors d'oeuvre with aperitifs or as a first course at the table.

Consomme aux Morilles

Use a homemade beef broth or canned consomme to which finely chopped little black morilles (French mushrooms) are added. These are imported dried and must be soaked first. Any variety of mushrooms will do. A touch of Madeira or dry sherry gives eclat to the consomme. Serve very hot with crackers.

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Chandler Meloy

Alumni Day Saturday Celebrates A Week of Sport Thrills

The rain patrol, established by the athletic department, had good news for the coaching profession this past week... even "it's only a drizzle" has come to mean sports time in the most rain drenched sports season for the past 25 years. In any event, track, baseball, golf and riding, along with the swim team, were all able to get in official games this past week. The alumni, arriving on Saturday for an all-day affair, will have some records to talk about, games to watch, and a delightful reception at the home of Headmaster and Mrs. Robert U. Ricklefs.

So to celebrate Alumni Day, we report the following sports results:

GOLF: Well, at least the Stanford alumni can breathe easy. Stevenson did not beat the contending NCAA golf team from Stanford, as the "Big Red" turned back a spirited bid (RLS held even on the back nine) to win 18½ to 8½. In the same meet, RLS was also playing Pacific Grove High, one of the top prep teams in America, and RLS came out a narrow winner at 16 to 11. PG was also taking on the Stanford Frosh while RLS met the varsity. Medalists for RLS and Pacific Grove were Jeff Hildebrand and Chuck Rees, both at 81. Coach Dave Wilson had special praise for George Kelley who posted a 2½ to ½, win over Stanford's No. 1 Jim Curran and for Fred Mannings great play against Pacific Grove. Others sharing in the honors included Steve Barlow, Jack Booth and Claude Wynn. Last Tuesday, RLS defeated MORA 26½ to 6½.

TRACK: The track team, with only limited practice, went to Menlo last Saturday to test their all-weather track (rain or shine, they run every day on the rubber-like asphalt surface). It was a good day for Stevenson as RLS defeated Holy Cross and Menlo, 55-48-47 in the three-way varsity, and upset Holy Cross and Menlo in the B Division by 67-37½-21½. In dual competition Stevenson won both A and B against both schools by 2-1 margins.

The track team now stands at 5-1 varsity (losing only to Carmel) and 4-2 in the lightweights in dual competition. Larry Kuechler, the state-bound sprinter, won the 880 and 220 again, and anchored the mile relay. "Iron-man" Steve Covert took a first, second, third and anchored the 440 relay. Mark Farber in the middle distance, Robbie Ford in the hurdles, Don Hickok and Mark Stevenson in the distance runs, and Kirk Barr in the field events also had especially good days. Barr, team Captain, took his favorite event, shot, by a good five feet. Mike Eberley showed great form in the pole vault using our new fiber-glass pole (It whips you over the bar).

The lightweights did just as well, winning by great margins with strong performances by Jeff Erlanson, with freshman "iron-man" Don Hart taking a first, two seconds and a third, Tim Talbott's two firsts in field events, plus fine performances by Willis Cook, Tom Brown, Taji Bugbee and Steve Hyde gave the team a great all-around effort for a solid victory.

BASEBALL: After dropping their first game to Palma, 10-1 (ouch!) the "Pirates" trounced Junipero by 4-0 to win the first round of the CAA tournament (to be finished in May due to weather postponements) with Pat Rauber pitching a great game. Bruce Hartzell, Bruce Wileman and Dave Greb had doubles, plus great play by Mike Greene and John Cann, to win the day and set the season at 7 postponed, 1 victory, 1 loss.

SWIM: Stevenson took Pacific Grove 64-31 in a swim meet, while the B's were dropping a close one 45-42. Stevenson captured every gold medal except one in the Varsity, with sensational performances by Captain Tim Shea with three victories. Others giving top efforts were Jim Merritt, Pete Cowden, Jim Booth, Jim Speaks and Pete Stremmel. The boys dropped one to Menlo 51-47 last Saturday during the track meet but will have a chance to return the "favor" during Alumni Day as Menlo will visit the Pebble Beach pool (starting at 2 p.m.)

RIDING: Finally, for a good week, the riders came back with ribbons from the schooling show held at the Pebble Beach stables last Saturday and Sunday, with Mason Phelps taking a 1st and 3rd, John Bosse with two seconds, Ken Upchurch with a second, Larry Grant a third and Martin Mooney a fourth. Coach Norman Ellis stated "It was a good ride for our boys."

And that makes a good sum-up for this week, Norm, in all our events. Happy sunshine to you...

This Sunday a radio program entitled "Building Better Understanding Between Teen-agers and Parents" will be heard over station KGO at 7:30 a.m. and over station KDON at 8:45 a.m. on the Christian Science series "The Bible Speaks to You." A successful way of breaking down the wall of misunderstanding between parents and teen-agers, which often develops, using the Bible for guidance will be discussed.

GOLF CART FOR WOUNDED SOLDIERS

The mile-long corridors at the U.S. Army Hospital at Fort Ord have grown shorter for battlefield wounded patients returning from Vietnam thanks to the generosity of Nelson Dougherty, a Monterey businessman and member of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, who gave a multi-battery powered golf cart to the hospital.

The cart, presented to the hospital by Dougherty, above right, will be used to move recuperating Vietnam patients along the long passages between their wards and the physical therapy ward.

Attending the presentation were several soldiers assigned to the Medical Holding Company here who have recently returned from duty in Vietnam. They are, left to right, Specialist 4 Robert Stringer, Staff Sergeant William Proudfoot and Private First Class Duane Walraven.

Carnival Day Plans At Little Red School House

The Little Red School House, under Rosa Doner's directorship, will be transformed into Pooh Corner for the annual Bay Day Carnival on Saturday, May 6 from 11-2 p.m. The school, 2 miles south of Carmel on Highway 1 at San Jose Creek, is the home of the Carmel Parent Cooperative Nursery, and the traditional Bay Day is the major fund raising event of the year.

Mrs. Russell Thomson is president of the school for the spring term. Co-chairmen of the Bay Day event are Mrs. Fred Nolan and Mrs. Don Canham. Publicity is being handled by Mrs. Elliot Loomis and Mrs. Sebastian Bordonaro; posters and decorations, Mrs. Harold Price; general store, Mrs. Charles Keller; pictures, Mrs. Jim Wagner; donkey rides, Mrs. Howard Feder. The rest of the membership will handle concessions, luncheon and Indian Trail.

HOLD THE FORT — Pine Cone subscriptions go to Fort Ord, California, Fort Lee, New Jersey, and Fort Smith, Arkansas.

Roger D. Johnson

Airman Third Class Roger D. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Johnson of Carmel, has been graduated at Sheppard AFB, Texas, from the training course for the U.S. Air Force aircraft mechanics. He is being assigned to Davis-Monthan AFB, Arizona, for duty with the Tactical Air Command.

Roger is a graduate of Carmel High School and attended Monterey Peninsula College where he was a member of Phi Sigma Chi.

Art Coordinating Council's President Reports

by Leonard W. Klene

At the first annual meeting of the Arts Coordinating Council of Monterey County which was held yesterday at the Estrada Adobe in Monterey, Leonard W. Klene president of the group presented his annual report. Also on the agenda was the election of new officers for the council. Klene was elected president for a second term, Mrs. Rody Holt, 1st vice president; Mrs. John Hicks, 2nd vice president; Mrs. John P. Beahan, secretary; Fritz Wurmann, treasurer, and Michael McGinnis, nominating committee.

In his report Klene stated that "the council was incorporated on April 8, 1966 and has received both State and Federal tax exemption status. Its purpose, as stated in our charter is the encouragement, promotion and coordination of the practice and appreciation of the arts among the people of Monterey County.

In furthering this effort we have, during the past year, become an organization with an active membership of 16 major cultural groups in the area. In May, 1966, we presented Dr. William A. Melnitz, Dean of the Fine Arts Department of the University of California at Los Angeles in an important address on the "State of the Arts Today."

Present at our June meeting were the executive director of the California Arts Commission and his assistant, Robert Marchand. At this meeting both the Carmel Art Commission and the Sunset Commission were represented.

As a result of this visit the Sunset Commission was able to call on the services of the State Commission to have a professional acoustical survey made of Sunset Auditorium without cost to them; and the Arts Coordinating Council, in conjunction with three of its member groups requested and received a preliminary study of the feasibility of a cultural center for the Monterey Peninsula made by Andy Trivelli of Economics Research Associates at the expense of the California Arts Commission.

The council supported the White Oaks Theatre drive for funds in December with endorsement and letters to business firms and organizations and nominated Hal Hallett for Esquire Magazine's First Annual Business Award in the Arts for the crash campaign that he and Tom Hudson launched which successfully raised over $12,000 in 10 days thereby preventing the closing of the White Oaks project.

In January the Seattle Auction Plan for fund raising for all the arts, was presented by Paul S. Friedlander of Seattle who explained the way in which the project worked there. Following the meeting the council appointed a committee to promote encouragement of the idea in the community.

I feel that in this first year of operation we have laid a foundation for future action in the community which will be significant to the whole cultural climate as well as to our own members.

I would like to express my appreciation of the efficient way in which all our elected officers have carried out their duties, and to thank the following individuals who have helped our program develop over the past year:

Kenneth Ehrman, Dr. Keith Merrill, Miss Sally Church, Mrs. Claudine Van Vleet, Mrs. Violet Beahan, Mrs. Rody Holt, Michael McGinnis, Mrs. Kay Harrington and Mrs. Frank G. Ringland.

In his closing statement Klene posed an additional thank you to Mrs. Eleanor Melvin, who was secretary for the council and who was "the guiding force behind our successful year as an organization." Klene then told the group that he has appointed Mrs. Melvin as the new executive director for the council as this position will provide her with a wider field for activity during the coming year.

Ceramics Show At Carmel Gallery

An exhibition of the work of Toshiko Takaezu, famed artist potter, opened Sunday at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association gallery in Carmel.

Miss Takaezu's works have been exhibited at some 52 galleries, colleges and universities throughout the country and is represented in the permanent collections of 35 museums and galleries.

Born in Hawaii, she was educated at the Honolulu School of Art and the University of Hawaii where she studied ceramics under Claude Horan and weaving under Hester Robinson. She later taught at the university and other schools including the University of Wisconsin, Honolulu Academy of Arts, Haystack School of Crafts in Maine, and for eight years at the Cleveland Institute of Art, Cleveland, Ohio.

The Association gallery is open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 2 to 5 p.m. Saturdays. The ceramics show will remain there through May 8.

Water Color Session

Helen B. Dooley will conduct a class in flower painting in water color this Saturday at Sunset Center. This session will be given at the request of students that were in her six day Easter week water color sessions.

Miss Dooley will also teach a class in drawing every Saturday in May and there are still openings for this group. These classes will start at 8:30 a.m. and end at 11:30 a.m. and a showing of the works to come out of this class will be held at a later date.

Miss Dooley is the owner of the Dooley Gallery in Carmel and is a professor of art at the University of the Pacific from where she's now on leave.

Above is an example of the work displayed in the new Chinese Art Gallery which opened last weekend in Carmel on Lincoln and Seventh Streets. The Gallery is under the direction of Professor Yet-Por Cheng and features many of his works. The professor hopes to assist in promoting a better cultural understanding of East and West and to acquaint the public with some of his original ideas of Chinese art.

Overseas Observations

"Greetings from Nippon! It is delightful here now, with the cherry blossoms season at its peak." So reports Mr. Rupert Leach, Carmel resident.

Our traveler goes on to observe that "this small country is terribly crowded (over 100 million people in an area less than the size of California). How very fortunate we are to live on the Monterey Peninsula! One feels a very deep sense of gratitude toward the conservationists who would keep the area unspoiled."

The next phase of Mr. Leach's journey will bring him to the eastern United States the early part of May.

WHERE BUT CARMEL

Would a first-time visitor, standing at the corner of Ocean and Dolores, ask, "Where's the main street?"

Wildflower Exhibit

Three artists of wildflowers will present their work through the month of April at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History. Artists are Ruth Chatfield of San Francisco, Ray Kennedy of Hollister, and Roland Wilson of Pacific Grove.

The museum is located at the corner of Forest and Central Avenues in Pacific Grove. Open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Closed Mondays.

Museum Musings

Renovation is continuing on the quarters of the Carmel Museum of Art on Dolores Street. July 4, has been set as the opening date. The public is invited to view the progress any weekday during normal working hours.

Readers owning art exhibit catalogues pertaining to local artists in either group or individual exhibits are invited to contact the museum, as this type of material is most needed for the museum archives. The museum would be interested in copying these documents where and when available.

Carmel Student Wins Honors

Timothy McCarthy, a Carmel High School student, was the top honors winner, senior division, in the Seventh Annual Tri-County Science Fair held in Salinas recently. Tim's honors came with his exhibit on genetic characteristics in the fruit fly, and earned him a trip to the International Science Fair in San Francisco, May 10, as a competitor.

The exhibits at the Science Fair, were judged by teams of volunteers drawn from industry, education, and the professions.

Other winners were Grades 4-6; Karen McCurry, Tulare, superior; Leslie Read, Tulare, superior; Sally Bennett, Tulare, honors; Regina Howland, Tulare, merit.

Ashworth

Private Edward T. Ashworth Jr., 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Ashworth of Carmel, recently completed a helicopter maintenance course at the Army Aviation School, Fort Rucker, Alabama.

He was trained in helicopter gunnery systems, aviation operations in the field and techniques of survival, escape and evasion.

Arts And Crafts At Convalescent Hospital

by Peggy L. Penney

Macaroni, as any economy-minded housewife will tell you, makes an excellent budget meal. But at Carmel Convalescent Hospital, this simple fare has found a different, if inedible use. It is used in decorating boxes and bottles as part of a unique arts and crafts program started a year ago by Jerry Winters of Pebble Beach and Sioux Scott of Carmel.

Jerry and Sioux, currently entertaining at the Outrigger Restaurant on Cannery Row, are rapidly becoming legendary throughout the Peninsula for their benefit performances. When they discovered that the patients at Carmel Convalescent Hospital have little or nothing to occupy their time, they took the idea for an arts and crafts program to Mrs. R. Patterson, the hospital administrator, and she gave them a room on the lower floor of the hospital, and the program was underway.

"What we need," Jerry said, "are volunteers to help with the program. If they can't help with classes, perhaps a few can spend an hour or two visiting or reading to the patients, many of whom have no families, friends or diversionary activity outside their rooms." If enough volunteers can be procured, an addition to the arts and crafts program will provide instruction and activity to those patients who are bedridden and unable to attend their regular scheduled crafts classes. Although volunteers are among the greatest needs, personal or club donations and support would be of invaluable aid in providing materials. A brochure will be mailed upon request to interested persons or organizations.

Research Project Industry-Sponsored

The first industry-sponsored research project to be undertaken by the Naval Postgraduate School will be conducted by Dr. John H. Duffin of Carmel Valley, an associate professor of chemical engineering at the school. The Glass Container Industry Research Corporation will sponsor the project.

Duffin, who has developed a mathematical model of a part of the glass manufacturing process, will verify the accuracy of his computations so that a less complicated mathematical model which would permit direct on-line computer control of the process might be developed.

Doctor Austin Frey To Retire From NPGS

Dr. Austin R. Frey, a professor of Physics at the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, will retire on April 30 after 21 years on the Postgraduate School faculty. He is a 16-year resident of the Monterey Peninsula, and lives at Costado Rd., Pebble Beach.

After joining the Postgraduate School faculty in 1946 when the school was situated in Annapolis, Md., Frey became chairman of the department of physics and electronics in 1947, serving in that position until 1953 when he was designated chairman of the physics department, a position in which he served until 1964. He was one of five members of the faculty of the Naval Postgraduate School who were designated "distinguished professors" of the school at the commencement in May, 1966, the first to be so honored.

MEMORY'S SWANS

Edith Jamieson of Holiday House, Carmel, reminds us that "today's geese are memory's swans." For instance, if you think this has been an "unusually" wet April, the record may surprise you. According to the weatherman at Naval Postgraduate School, there was rain or drizzle eight out of the first 10 days of this month last year too. Exceptions in 1966 were April 3 and 10; this year, the 3rd and 9th.

"SAFARI"

by Ann L. Roper

For my two-week Christmas vacation in 1965 I left snowy Europe, where I was living at the time, and traveled to sunny East Africa for a "photo-safari." I was one of a group of about 30 people who took this tour, and we flew south from Frankfurt, Germany, in a chartered plane to begin our holiday. After stops in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and Aswan, Egypt, we again found ourselves flying over the striking Egyptian landscape. We followed the Nile, and the land is green for a few miles on either side of it, elsewhere, desert, farther than the eye can see. We flew for some three more hours, and finally reached Addis Ababa, the capital of Ethiopia.

The next morning we toured the city. It is modern, except for the old, ancient-looking quarters. We went to Emperor Haile Selassie's palace and strolled through the fabulous grounds. We stroked his pet cheetahs and watched the lions. We walked among smaller animals, an ostrich, which didn't know which way to run, monkeys, birds, and little dikdik, that licked us like cats.

That afternoon we flew to Nairobi, the capital of Kenya, crossing the Equator in the air. The next day we went in a bus to the National Park, which is just outside Nairobi, the way a zoo might be. There we saw the first really wild and free animals. Every African animal is represented, except elephants. In a few hours we saw giraffes, gazelles, and eland, wart hogs, zebras, wildebeests (gnus), hartebeests, hippos, monkeys, impalas ostriches and lions.

The rules of African National Parks are these: You never get out of your car, and you refrain from disturbing the animals. Of course, you never feed them. The animals aren't bothered by vehicles in the slightest. No one knows for sure if they know humans are in the cars, or not, but, at any rate, the gasoline smell masks the human one, and the animals graze or sleep, letting cars come up, in some cases, as close as several feet.

The next morning we flew to Kampala, capital of Uganda, passing over Lake Victoria. The "safari" part of the trip began in earnest then. Days fell into a pattern and no one knew, or really cared, what day it was. Our group traveled in three mini-buses most of the time. We had native drivers who were cheerful and friendly.

At Chobi Lodge in Murchison Park, Uganda, our rooms overlooked the Nile, and we could see hippos in the river splashing and snorting by day. At night they came up on the banks to feed by the Lodge, and you could hear them chomping grass right outside the windows.

One day we drove from Chobi to the Nile near Murchison Falls. It was a long, hot, bumpy ride, but well worth the discomfort. We crossed the Nile on a little ferry and continued for 20 miles until we came to the Falls. Here the river rushes through narrow rocks and plunges down many feet, sending spray far up into the air. This same water rolls placidly through Egypt to the sea, thousands of miles away. We returned across the river and had lunch at Paraa Lodge on the banks of the Nile.

Then we got into a small launch, and cruised up the Nile and down again. Our purpose was to see animals, and the driver obligingly steered from side to side of the river. We saw more hippos than we could count. They are very shy and submerge when you come close, but always reappear elsewhere a moment later. Baboons ran along the water's edge, and elephants drank from the river. The most amazing animals were the crocodiles, which are eerie and sinister-looking. They sleep along the banks, and usually ignore tourists. If aroused, they waddle to the water with an awkward walk, slither in, and disappear. They do look just like logs.

After several days, we returned to Nairobi, spending one day and night there. We then headed in the opposite direction from our first "safari," going to Namanga, which is on the border of Kenya and Tanzania. There we stayed in little cabins around a central lodge where the vegetation was green and lovely. There were many insects, both inside and outside, but aside from them, the place was ideal.

One morning we got up at five in order to arrive in nearby Amboseli Park before dawn. That's the hour the animals are most active. We saw three beautiful lions, and a battle-scarred rhino, which was eating and paid us no attention. We had a picnic-breakfast around 10 o'clock and returned to Namanga.

Later in the afternoon we visited a Masai boma. The Masai are the tribe which lives in this territory; a boma is their village. The Masai are somewhat childish, but smart enough to play up to the

Democratic Club To Hold Bazaar

The Carmel Women's Democratic Club will hold a bazaar at the Cypress Hall on Lincoln Street and Eighth Avenue on Friday, April 21 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

A luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and some of the featured items at the event will be home baked goods, books of all kinds, new and nearly new clothing for all ages, jewelry, ceramics, a Farmers' Market and many different types of plants.

The chairman for the bazaar is Mrs. Charles W. Davis and helping out as booth chairmen are Mrs. Bea Short, Mrs. Gordon Brown, Mrs. George Corrigan, Mrs. R. Alt, Mrs. Gerold Barren, Mrs. W. D. Pratt, Mrs. J. Boit Morse, Mrs. Susan Haberfeld, Mrs. Harwell Dyer, Mrs. A. L. Friedenthal, Mrs. P. G. Preble, Mrs. Robert Cox, Mrs. Donald Scheicker, Mrs. Robert Bussinger and Mrs. Saul Weingarten.

tourists. In return for posing for pictures, we gave them gum and candy. The Masai are dirty by American standards, but they don't seem to mind. The flies were thick, and we stayed in the boma only a few minutes.

From Namanga we drove to Arusha, a town where part of the movie "Hatari" was filmed. Then we continued to Ngorongoro Crater. This is a fascinating area. It's a real crater, formed by an extinct volcano, containing a meadow, lake and forest. It's about 110 square miles, and said by some to be one of the natural wonders of the world. Many thousands of animals live in the Crater, but as you stand on the rim and look down, you cannot see one living thing. We stayed that night at Crater Lodge and spent the whole next day down in the Crater itself.

As we drove down the twisting track, in Land-Rovers, the only vehicles that can withstand the difficult trek, different land forms emerged into view, and also grazing herds of zebras and wildebeests. That day we observed animals for hours. We saw a lion that had made a "kill" and was tearing up the meat. Vultures and hyenas kept circling in closer and closer. We saw several rhinos, and one, with a little baby, charged us, but stopped just short of ramming into the Rover. We raced zebras, photographed more elephants, and finally had a picnic lunch in a clearing.

This was the culmination of the trip, for we had to leave the next day, and we returned to Arusha. Next day we drove back to Nairobi in the afternoon and went straight to the airport. All along the road we saw Masai warriors, giraffes, gazelles and ostriches, until we were within the Nairobi city limits. From here we flew back to Frankfurt, ready, even then, to plan future trips to Africa's vast regions.

Otter Go Home!

Protection of California's Central Coast abalone industry from the threat of hungry sea otters, was the subject of a bill introduced by State Senator Donald L. Grunsky (R-Watsonville).

Large numbers of sea otters have strayed from further up the coast to feast on the abalone beds to the South, particularly around the Morro Bay area. Grunsky's legislation would require the Department of Fish and Game to humanely round-up the otters, and herd them back to their normal habitat.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

We have two copies of THE DEATH OF A PRESIDENT by William Manchester. They came to us from the McNaughton service and thus are available to holders of county cards as well as regular city borrowers. The great controversy and the quantities of publicity on this book will put it in demand. Speaking for myself, I will wait to read it until all of you braver readers have finished it. Just looking at it gives me goose-bumps.

To sailors, the next book should be most interesting. It is UNDER THE EYE OF THE STORM by John Hersey. It is the story of two couples who sail a small boat into the very eye of a great storm, and in the experience their personal problems are solved. The author of the book is a sailing enthusiast and has been so for many years and this gives his book an immediacy that makes it really come alive.

SEASON IN, SEASON OUT is by Jack Gaver and is a different sort of theatre book. The author is a drama critic for the United Press, and he calls this book a diary of the 1965-66 theatre season in New York. He writes of a play by giving you the history of the theatre it is showing in, then he gives you a history of the star, and finally he gets around to telling you about their present play which he is reviewing. It's all very chatty and delightful and interesting. Recommended for everyone is this charming book.

DAWN OF ART is by Karel Kupka and is a history of the art of the Australian aborigines, no less. He describes the present life of these people as being a stone age culture, and thus their art is today much as it was hundreds of years ago. This book contains the folk tales of the aborigines as well as their art. It is illustrated with photographs, both in color and in black and white.

Robert Blake has done a large, big, huge book on Disraeli. Well written, it gives an intimate and an exhaustive portrait of the man. It is foot-noted and it is indexed. In fact, it may tell you a lot more about Disraeli than you want to know. Oh yes, the title is DISRAELI.

A biography which reads like fiction but is heart-rendingly true, is THE FURIOUS PASSAGE OF JAMES BALDWIN by Fern Eckman. This is Baldwin as a young man in Harlem, the support of his mother and eight stepbrothers and sisters, who left Harlem for Paris and another life. This book was written from miles and miles of taped interviews, with Baldwin, with his friends and associates, with others who had become somewhat disenchanted with him. A great deal of it is transcribed conversations with Baldwin. It has a

Mrs. Margaret C. Norwood and Mr. Gerald Ostrow announced their engagement at a dinner party given for them in the Carmel home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Ostrow.

Mrs. Norwood is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Carson of Yakima, Washington and she attended Western High School and Maryland State Teachers' College. She is the sister of Mrs. Charles Supercynski and Charles L. Miller of Baltimore, Maryland. Mrs. Norwood makes her home in Monterey.

Mr. Ostrow is the son of Herman B. Ostrow and the late Mrs. Ostrow of Monterey. He was graduated from Palm Springs High School and is associated with the Monterey agency of the American National Insurance Co.

The young couple plan to be married August 1 at the First Presbyterian Church of Monterey.

Doctor Margaret W. Barnes of Carmel attended the 44th annual Wellesley College Alumnae Council meeting on the campus in Wellesley, Massachusetts, April 12 through 14.

Over 300 alumnae leaders from every part of the country returned to hear firsthand accounts of Wellesley from students, faculty powerful impact on the reader.

Finally, let us mention 1066 THE STORY OF A YEAR, by Denis Butler. Month by month Butler takes you through this crucial year of English history and makes it live again for you. Denis Butler is a native of Scotland and writes as a professional. His book has maps and drawings to illustrate the battles he describes, and a good general index in the back. Easy reading with learning history as a bonus!

members and administrative officers of the college.

At workshop sessions, councilors discussed club and class projects and plans for the progress of Wellesley's $21 million program for the future.

In the past few weeks the girls born in the Carmel Area surpassed the boys in at least numbers. There were five new girls to only three boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick L. Dormody started things off in fine style with their new son Jonathan Patrick who was born on March 9 in the Monterey Hospital, LTD.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Peckham of Carmel Valley evened things out on April 24 when they added a girl named Rima Vernetto to the Carmel population.

Mr. and Mrs. William Buckingham of Pebble Beach had a girl named Bryn Janeen who was born on March 26 at Community Hospital and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mello added another girl to the list named Karen Anne who was born on March 27 at the same hospital.

April 1 was a big day at Community Hospital for babies born in the Carmel Area starting with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Still with a girl called Rachael Lynn. Mr. and Mrs. Brian Wood of Pebble Beach also had a girl and she was named Beverly Joy. Doctor and Mrs. Frank Hyatt of Carmel changed the odds with their new son who was called Gregory Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Green III had a boy on March 27 named Theodore IV, and he also was born at the Community Hospital.

INSTRUCTOR NEEDED

The German Department of the Defense Language Institute at the Presidio of Monterey has an immediate and urgent need for an instructor of German. Contact the Civilian Personnel Office at the Presidio of Monterey.

Marine Private Richard S. Dilorenzo, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Dilorenzo of Partridge Court in Carmel, has just graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego.

He will now start to undergo about three weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

Staff Change At Carmel Library

Mrs. Dorothy Colvin, who has served as Children's Librarian for three years, has resigned from the staff of the Harrison Memorial Library. She will return to her native state of New York and will begin her duties in July as Children's Consultant for the Ramapo Catskill Library System with headquarters in Middletown, New York.

Her place on the Carmel Library staff will be taken by Mrs. Allene Weiner, who just last year obtained her professional librarianship degree when she finished her work at the University of California at Berkeley. Mrs. Weiner is a Carmelite by birth, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Knight. She has not only studied children's literature in library school, but has had first hand experience with it because of reading to her small son Andy.

According to Chief Librarian Ruth Thornburg, the Carmel Library is justly proud of the good work Mrs. Colvin has done during her stay here, and is also confident that Mrs. Weiner will carry on this good work in the best Carmel tradition.

Baldwin-Klaumann Rites Set

Mr. and Mrs. William Baldwin of Carmel are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Pamela Kay, to Clyde Roy Klaumann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde P. Klaumann of Carmel.

The forthcoming wedding will be Saturday, June 24, at the Church of the Wayfarer. Following their marriage, the young couple will establish their first residence in Carmel.

Pamela moved to Carmel with her family in 1957 and attended the Sunset School, graduated from Carmel High School and studied at Monterey Peninsula College. She is a member of the Job's Daughters Bethel 223, and is employed as the assistant director of the Carmel Youth Center.

Miss Baldwin is the sister of Richard Baldwin of Campbell, and of Mrs. Ronald C. Johnson, James, Rod and Cathy Baldwin all of Carmel. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Baldwin of El Nido and Mrs. W. N. Hurd of Hanford.

The future bridegroom is a member of two old Monterey Peninsula families. He is the grandson of Mrs. Roy Benadom of Monterey and the late Mr. Benadom, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klaumann.

Mr. Klaumann is on the faculty of Carmel Middle School, and formerly taught at Sunset School, the elementary school he attended as a boy. He was a member of the 1957 graduating class at Carmel High School where he won the outstanding athlete "Blanket Award" in his senior year.

Furthering his education he went on to Humboldt State College and there was elected to membership in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." He also did summer graduate work at Harvard University. He has been with the Carmel Unified School District since 1961, and during vacations works with the Carmel Police Department where his father is Chief of Police.

The April meeting of the Naval Postgraduate School Officers Wives Club will be held in the El Rancho and El Prado Rooms in Herrmann Hall on April 26 at 7:30 p.m. and will feature the semi-annual elections of officers for the group and the Nimble Thimble Fashion Show.

Hand sewn fashions made and modeled by NPGS wives and children will be the highlight of the event and two Carmel stores, Raggett M., Inc. and Import Fabric Shop, will have displays of materials at the meeting.

Tickets for the event may be purchased at the Navy Exchange or the Village Store and there will be several door prizes.

The Complete Gardener

... a regular diet of information having to do with plants

Following are steps which should be taken to build a proper lawn; one which will require minimum maintenance. Short cuts do not save money in the long run. Lawn repairs are often as costly as the original price of construction... and there is always the inconvenience factor. There are many recipes for a good lawn. This is the best one we've found:

1. Remove trash and sight grade with suitable equipment.
2. Correct drainage, if necessary.
3. If soil is too alkaline, add soil sulphur... if too acid, add agricultural lime. (Adjust pH to 6.5).
4. Till the soil to a depth of 4 inches.
5. Fine grade and float out.
6. Rake off trash and roll lightly.
7. Add superphosphate (or 0-10-10) and till under.
8. Add topsoil, if needed. To improve soil structure add an amendment (ground fir bark, turface, steer manure, peat, or aged sawdust).

9. Add milorganite (5 lbs. per 100 sq. ft.).

10. Add insecticide (granular chlordane, dieldrin, or spectracide.) Rake in.

11. Lawn seed should be sown with a spreader. For better coverage use at least 25 per cent more than suggested on the package. Divide seed in 2 equal portions. Sow one portion north and south; the other east and west.

12. Cover the area with enough fir-bark soil conditioner to hide seed.

13. Roll if necessary.

14. Water thoroughly with fine spray. Keep damp until a good stand of grass is showing.

15. When grass is 2 in. tall give it a light rolling to firm roots.

16. The first cutting should occur when the grass stands up again and before it starts to fall over (2½ to 3 in. tall). Use a sharp mower. Do not cut closer than 2 inches.

Lawn Feeding

Cool-season grasses (desirable lawn types) grow most vigorously in April, May, June, September and October. They should be fed frequently during these months. Be cautious about using chemical fertilizers on young lawns. The safest source of high nitrogen, and the least subject to leaching, is urea formaldehyde (ureaform, nitroform, agriform). This is not to be confused with common urea, 45 per cent nitrogen.

Warm-season grasses (Bermuda, crab grass, St. Augustine, Zoysia) can be discouraged by starvation during the early summer months. They feed and grow in July and August, while the desirable grasses are resting. The undesirable grasses, and most lawn weeds, thrive on frequent waterings during the early summer. The better lawn types should be watered only when wilting is noticed. Close mowing is injurious to cool-season grasses. Keep mower blades at 2 inches.

Be with us next week and we'll promise you a wild assortment of facts and figures.

Busy Schedule For Native Plant Society

On Friday, April 21, the Monterey Bay Chapter of the California Native Plant Society will have a meeting in the Music Room of the Carmel High School at 8 p.m. The speaker will be Dr. Robert Hoover, Professor of Botany at the California State Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo. He will speak on "Monterey County Plants Worth Saving." The meeting is open to the public.

Next Sunday, April 23, the Chapter will have a field trip to Royal Oaks Park in northern Monterey County beyond Prunedale. Those participating should meet at 10 a.m. and bring lunch. To reach the park, take Highway 1 north to the junction with Highway 101 at the stop light, then cross the highway to San Miguel Road on the left, continue on this road to where it crosses Terpey Road. Turn right for a short distance, then right again on Maher Road. Continue on to the Park which will have a sign on the left side. It is a nice place for a family picnic.

Oakmoths Attack

SACRAMENTO — Damage to thousands of California native, live and deciduous oak trees is threatened by early outbreaks of California oakmoths, a pest which defoliates the trees and leaves them weakened and unsightly.

Reports of the potential damage to the state's oaks were made by Entomologist Ronald Hawthorne of the California Department of Agriculture and Forester Richard Hunt, State Division of Forestry, both of Sacramento.

The two experts said the pest, Phryganidia californica, is present in such numbers that damage, much earlier than usual, will follow unless chemical treatment is applied to kill the larvae already eating last year's leaves and preparing to move onto the lush new shoots as they appear in the next few weeks.

What's Going on Here?

by B. ROWE

PIN POINT PROFILE

Mrs. "Chic" Sale

To some Rotarians of yesterday, the memory of the comic character of Lem in "The Specialist" portrayed by Chic Sale will, undoubtedly, bring a broad smile. Chic was a man who loved the simple folk — he loved them for what they were, including their unpredictable idiosyncrasies.

Chic's wife, Marie Sale, now living in Carmel Valley, pointed to her collection of her famous husband's mementoes — covering one whole wall of her apartment. Here we found to our amazement, not only "hick" characters in which Chic Sale excelled, but a picture of him impersonating President Lincoln. In 1935 this movie was released. It was called "The Perfect Tribute" and Chic played the part of Lincoln.

Recently a field representative from the Huntington Library in Pasadena came up to see Mrs. Sale and requested permission to take back some of the actor's mementoes and photographs for the sake of posterity, since this delightful era of vaudeville was no longer to be seen. She graciously agreed to do this. Chic started his career on the small circuit in the middle West, later coming up to the Orpheum Circuit, portraying school day characters — making his several changes right there on the stage behind a make believe organ. It was in 1911 in Salt Lake City that Marie and Charles met. She was playing in another theatre as a violin soloist. She continued to travel with him after their marriage in 1912 and even later, until their family grew to three and then four children. About this time they thought it would be wiser to establish a permanent residence — they chose the suburbs of New York City.

Before Chic went on the stage, in his younger days he enjoyed entertaining the college boys of Sigma Nu Fraternity in Illinois. Later, as a tribute to his genius, they voted him an honorary member of their fraternity.

Marie Sale is a gifted person in her own right. She has been a real inspiration to a great many people. Until a year ago she played in the viola section of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra. Music has always been a real part of her life. In 1966 The Specialist was made into a movie short in England, and as a result was chosen the best in its field by the Edinburgh Festival. Mrs. Sale was invited and attended the gala premiere — held in Edinburgh last year. This amusing little book is now published in 12 countries, and is especially popular in England and Sweden at the present time.

Chic Sale is still making us laugh!

The high cost of food is just another blow below the belt.

Chic Sales is shown above as the character Ben in Treasure Island, also as he was in non-acting life and as the best known character he created, Lem.

—the one you've been dreaming about. Yes, it has rolled thatch-style roof. Yes, it is well built stucco. Of course it has a fireplace for having tea and crumpets in front of, and a sunny corner for a desk which looks out to the pocket-handkerchief-size garden. There's an adorable dining nook off the kitchen. Bedrooms: two. Baths: one. Indeterminate age. 3 blocks from the post office. Garage, the same storybook style. It's $25,000—that's all.

COUNTRY COTTAGE CHARM

This is a nooks-and-crannies house, all different levels, in a bosky natural setting 2 blocks from the post office. It isn't very old, but it has the comfortable look and feel of a house that's been lived in and loved for years. Specifically, 3 bedrooms with sitting rooms, or 5 bedrooms; 2½ baths. Oh—and there's that delightful sleeping nook beside the old-brick fireplace (you climb a little ladder to reach it). For a small house, it will sleep an amazing number of people, or it's ideal for the small family with a lot of hobbies. And the price is only $33,500.

THE PROVERBIAL BUG'S EAR—

That's what this house is cute as! This is a new-ish cottage, very well built, with all the provincial charm of our older homes. Only 3 blocks from town, it's delightful in its woodsy setting with a brook in the back yard. Heavy shake roof, hardwood floors, heavy, stained lap-siding exterior. Interior decorating in keeping with the style of the house includes hand-painted peasant designs on kitchen cabinets, custom curtains. Price is just $22,000 and we'll try $2200 down payment.

outs' with exclusion. Try to see how you can work with the probation department. The punitive aspects rest primarily in court. The boys and girls will be stigmatized. Try suspension and working with probation officers on indefinite status contingent on academic record and other behavior."

"When you expel a child you have no influence on him," said Dr. Bialek. "Why do we assume the responsibility of judging him?"

"The primary function of the school is to educate. How can you educate a boy who is not there?" asked a teacher.

"The way it looks to me, you are taking all the responsibility of kicking them out and none for helping them," said a student. "If they have to wait until next year to get back in, your special program will be too late."

"We haven't talked at all about the whole climate of the school—a climate of toleration of a little diversity," said Dr. Bialek. "Most of these kids are usually on the social peripheral. The problem goes far deeper than whether we exclude for 10 days or six months."

After ratifying and amending wording of most of its proposals, the board voted to continue the meeting to next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Brey Hall.

Carmel City Council

advocated passage of the measure on a one year trial basis.

Mrs. William R. Smith was able to cite many points to favor the project. She deplored having business and residential interests at odds in projecting the future of the city and environs. Her conclusion was that the welfare of both interests are on an equitable plane.

Mr. Ricketts opposed conversion to parking on the grounds as it would deprive teenagers of a centrally located playground. Anita Wainright made an additional appeal to keep the lot for needed recreation.

To bring the matter to a vote Mayor Grant invoked the City rule of cloture on the motion which was protested strongly by Mr. Norberg. This divergence of opinion about procedure was resolved after a recess when Mayor Grant suggested a new amended motion. Norberg made his own motion to refer the proposal back to the Planning Commission, which was defeated.

Later, the motion by Blanks to appropriate $2000.00 for special resurfacing project and to have the Planning Commission members prepare landscaping plans for the lot and to restrict parking for space renters from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m., was passed with Norberg's only dissenting vote.

Carmel Cultural Commission
Appointments to the Carmel Cultural Commission were as follows: James B. Pruitt, Ted Fehring, Don Teague, Dr. James Gilman, Patricia Ball, Peter Dyer and Admiral Fisher. Selections for the ad hoc committee are: Mrs. Barbara Norberg, Joe Danysh and Mausita Jennings. An initial meeting of the entire group is scheduled for April 26, 7:30 p.m.

In the wake of considerable weighing of costs of buying or renting an SCM Office Copier it was decided to rent the machine.

A request for television commercial truck through certain urban sections was denied.

First reading of Ordinance 114 C.S., Annexation of Mission Tract II was passed unanimously.

Due to the overtime consideration of Sunset Parking proposal, the following were postponed for later meetings: Lodging Permits and Rentals, Business License Fees, Sunset Bleachers, Sunset Rates and Rentals and Installation of Plaque on City Property.

Annexation Issue Passed by 3-1 Margin

The annexation of Mission Tract No. 22 was passed by a 3-1 margin in a special election which had been set by the city council for this past Tuesday.

Brigadier General Robert P. Williams (Ret.) said, "Almost everyone turned out to vote in spite of the rain and hail. The whole area wanted this issue to pass and we had an almost complete voter turnout."

The area involved is bounded by the east side of Rio Road, south side of Santa Lucia Street, west side of Dolores Street and the south line of lots fronting on Franciscan Way.

City Clerk Hugh Bayless certified, at an earlier council meeting, that the assessed value of land owned by proponents exceeded the assessed value of land owned by opponents, as the latter only owned 36.79 percent of the land value of the area.

By state law, only land value may be considered, and no annexation election can be called unless the value proponents' land is over 50 percent of the land value in the area.

Incumbents Returned To Office At MPC

Despite rain and generally bad weather a large number of voters from the entire Monterey Peninsula College Board of trustees district turned out to return all the incumbents to the College Board of Education.

Russell S. Hansen, president of the board for the past two years, Mrs. Nancy O'Gara and Doctor Margaret Swigart were all given a large vote of confidence by the voters of the Peninsula. Between the three returning members there is a total of 10 years service to the MPC College District.

Nancy Johnson Lecture

Miss Nancy Johnson, Carmel artist and teacher will give the final lecture in this year's "Operation Update" series, at 10 a.m., Thursday, April 27, at the Monterey Youth Center, located next to the Dennis the Menace Park.

The series is sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Branch of American Association of University Women, it is open to all and free of charge. A coffee hour and question and answer period will follow. Nursery care will be provided.

Beacon House Benefit Art Auction Plans Set

The Eighth Annual Beacon House Benefit Art Auction will be held in the Mural Room of the Del Monte Lodge on Sunday, May 7. This event, which gets better every year, promises to be the finest one yet. Paintings, lithographs, and sculpture have already been contributed by such noted local artists as Emile Norman, Margaret Ziegler, Donald Buby, Malcom Moran, Wayne Dye, Mary Paxton, Elizabeth Maddox, Traylor Dunwoody, Robert Davey, Gerard Aken, and Jim Brown.

Beacon House is the Monterey Peninsula's rehabilitation center for alcoholics. It provides a non-institutional homelike environment for the recovering alcoholic, plus guidance and acceptance programs and group therapy. The annual benefit and auction helps to supply Beacon House with a major source of its income.

Co-Chairmen of the event are Doctor Donald Taugher and Mrs. Palmer T. Beaudette. Other appointments include Marjorie Allen, technical director; William S. Griffith, treasurer; Jane Campbell, volunteers; Mrs. John Shephard, poster distribution; Miss Mimi Cleary, bid girls; Roger Fandel, auctioneer; and L. R. Bemis, publicity. Thel Hampton, president of the Beacon House board of directors is also assisting in plans for the gala event.

The paintings will be hung in the Del Monte Lodge Mural Room and will be available for viewing at noon on Sunday, May 7. As in previous years there will be a lunch at 12:00 noon and the auction will begin at 2:00 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling 372-2334 or 372-7404. Tickets for the entire program, including lunch, are $3.50. Tickets for the auction only are $1.50. Those buying the $3.50 tickets will be reimbursed for the Del Monte Forest gate fee and they are reminded that they must pick up a refund receipt at the gate at the time that they enter the forest. Tickets may be purchased at Del Monte Lodge the day of the auction.
